

A line drawing of a mobile phone, tilted at an angle. The screen displays the text "123456" on the first line and "CALLING" on the second line. Below the screen is a numeric keypad with 12 circular buttons arranged in a 4x3 grid. There are also three elongated oval buttons above the keypad. A small circular button is located at the bottom left of the phone's face. A thin antenna extends from the top right of the phone.
